

Università di
Padova

FISPPA
Dipartimento di Filosofia,
Sociologia, Pedagogia,
Psicologia applicata

International Conference

FROM RELIGIOUS DIVERSITY TO RELIGIOUS PLURALISM WHAT IS AT STAKE?

International Conference

FROM RELIGIOUS DIVERSITY TO RELIGIOUS PLURALISM WHAT IS AT STAKE?

February 15-16, 2012

University of Padova, Italy

Archivio Antico – Palazzo Bo
Via VIII Febbraio, 2 and
FISPPA – Section on Sociology
Via Cesarotti, 10-12

Annual Review
of the Sociology of Religion
BRILL

LABREL
Laboratorio
Religioni

Thursday, February 16 (16:15 – 18:00) AULA 3
Parallel Session 6

Chair: Enzo Pace (University of Padova)
Effie Fokas (London School of Economics, UK),
Forces Promoting and Preventing Pluralism in Majority Orthodox Contexts
Marco Orioles (University of Udine, Italy),
Migrants and Religions in Udine: a Survey
Anat Feldman (Achva Academic College, Israel),
Modern Ethno-Religious Memory Communities in Israel
Bernhard Callebaut (Sophia University Institute, Loppiano- Firenze, Italy), *Sustaining Roman Catholic
Interreligious Dialogue: a Sociological Analysis of the Focolare Movement in Weberian Perspective*
Stefania Palmisano (University of Torino, Italy),
Spirituality in the Mosaic of Italian Religious Pluralism
Carolina Nuti (University of Pisa, Italy),
The Language of Fate: The Fragmentation of Representations on Votive Tablets

Thursday, February 16 (16:15 – 18:00) AULA 4
Parallel Session 7

Chair: Luigi Berzano (University of Torino)
Helena Vilaça (University of Porto, Portugal),
*Newcomers and New Religious Landscape in Portugal:
Types and Levels of Diversity*
Barbara Bertolani (University of Molise, Italy),
The 'Singular' Religious Pluralism of Young Sikhs in Italy
Naser Dumairieh (McGill University, Canada), Islamic Theology for a Pluralistic Age
Andrea Ruberti (University of Pisa, Italy),
From the Absolute to the Religious: How Religious Diversity Challenges Monotheistic Theologies
Maria Licia Paglione (Sophia University Institute, Loppiano- Firenze, Italy), Reciprocal Integration and Opened Identities: Interreligious Dialogue of the Focolare Movement as a Contribution to the Construction of a "Relational Religious Pluralism"

The transition from religious diversity to religious pluralism is one of the most important challenges that will reshape the role of religion in contemporary society.

The social and religious panorama of the contemporary world is changing, due to the growing pressure of migration, cultural diversity, and religious diversity in particular.

The presence of cultures and traditions different from those historically present in the various nations triggers processes of relating and comparing many aspects of daily social life, from politics to education, from economics to healthcare, from legal institutions to media, as well as the relations between generations and genres.

The aim of the conference is to highlight how the factual situation of cultural and religious diversity may lead to individual, social and political choices of organized and recognized pluralism. It is a process that leads to redefining both individual and collective identities, moving along a continuum that ranges from exclusion to inclusion.

Such an unprecedented situation requires new tools at both conceptual and methodological levels in order to be described and interpreted properly.

For more information please contact
giuseppe.giordan@unipd.it

Plenary Sessions: Archivio Antico-Palazzo Bo

Wednesday, February 15 (9:30)

Welcome

Giuseppe Zaccaria (Rector of the University of Padova)

Vincenzo Milanese (Head, Department of Philosophy, Sociology, Pedagogy, Applied Psychology)

Enzo Pace (Coordinator LABREL)

Wednesday, February 15 (10:00 – 12:30)

Plenary Session 1

Chair: Giuseppe Giordan (University of Padova)

James A. Beckford (University of Warwick, UK), Re-thinking Religious Pluralism

Fenggang Yang (Purdue University, USA), Oligopoly Is Not Pluralism

Linda Woodhead (Lancaster University, UK), Spirituality and the Institutionalisation of Religious Pluralism

William H. Swatos, Jr. (Baylor University, USA), Between No Establishment and Free Exercise: The Dialectic of American Religious Pluralism

Wednesday, February 15 (15:30 – 18:00)

Plenary Session 2

Chair: Enzo Pace (University of Padova)

Jean-Paul Willaime (EPHE, Sorbonne, France), Religious and Philosophical Diversity as a Challenge for Secularism: A Belgian-French Comparison

Gary Bouma (Monash University, Australia), Religious Diversity and Social Policy: The Dilemmas of Multi-faith Liberal Democracies

Pauline Côté (University of Laval, Canada), Religious Diversity and Public Policy: Who is Pluralist?

James V. Spickard (University of Redlands, USA), Diversity vs Pluralism? Notes from the American Experience

Jörg Stolz (University of Lausanne, Switzerland), The National Congregations Study Switzerland: Mapping and Assessing the Religious Diversity of a Whole Country

Thursday, February 16 (9:30 – 12:00)

Plenary Session 3

Chair: Luigi Berzano (University of Torino)

Roberto Motta (Recife University, Brazil), Brazilian Religions Old and New: Secularization and Enchantment

Siniša Zrinščak (University of Zagreb, Croatia), Pluralism and Diversity: Some Reflections from Post-communist Experience

Dedong Wei (Renmin University, China), Pluralism under Authoritarian Rule: The Structure of Church and State in China

Yoshihide Sakurai (Hokkaido University, Japan), Missionary Trans-border Religions and Defensive Civil Society: A Japanese Perspective on the Possibility of Religious Pluralism in Contemporary Japanese Society

Parallel Sessions: FISPPA – Section on Sociology, via Cesarotti 10-12

Thursday, February 16 (14:00 – 15:45) AULA 1

Parallel Session 1

Chair: Linda Woodhead (Lancaster University)

Josiane Le Gall (University of Montréal, Canada), Plural Localities, Plural Norms? Religious Diversity in Québec Healthcare Practices

Martin Stringer (University of Birmingham, UK), Religion after Riots: Listening to Discourses on Religion in Inner-Urban Birmingham

Renée de la Torre (CIESAS Occidente), México From Catholic Monopoly to Religious Diversification: Demographic information Used to Reconstruct the Religious Landscape in Mexico

Carlo Nardella (University of Milano, Italy), Pluralism that Sells. Print Advertisements as Indicators of Italy's Religious Pluralism, 1969-2009

Emanuela C. Del Re (University Niccolò Cusano of Roma, Italy), Religious Pluralism and Conflicts. Patterns and Challenges in Conflict Prevention and Resolution from Haifa and Beyond

Thursday, February 16 (14:00 – 15:45) AULA 3

Parallel Session 2

Chair: James A. Spickard (University of Redlands)

Philippe Murillo (University of Toulouse 3, France), From Diversity to Pluralism: American Metaphysical Religion

Mariachiara Giorda (University of Torino, Italy), Religious Pluralism as a Component of Intercultural Education

Antonella Trisolino (University of Toronto, Canada), Democracy and Religion: Rights, Safeguards, and Identities

Andrea Borella (University of Torino, Italy), Americans but Different: The Peculiar Amish Case

Lene Kühle (Aarhus University, Denmark), The Concept of Religious Diversity as an Expression of Religious Pluralism

Thursday, February 16 (14:00 – 15:45) AULA 4

Parallel Session 3

Chair: Jörg Stolz (University of Lausanne)

Anders Sjöborg (Uppsala University, Sweden), Dealing with Religious Diversity: Aims and Realities of Religious Education in Sweden

Roberto F. Scalon (University of Torino, Italy), State-religions Relationship in an Age of Austerity: An “After-modern” Axis?

Harun-Or-Rashid (BRAC University, Bangladesh), From Secularism to Extreme Secularism: A New Dimension of Extremism in Bangladesh

Annalisa Frisina (University of Padova, Italy), Young Italo-Ghanean Pentecostals in Dialogue: Experiencing Religious Diversity, Seeking Religious Pluralism in Verona

Olivier Servais (University of Louvain, Belgium), A Morphological Pluralism: Religious Signs in Virtual Worlds, Warcraft, and Second Life

Thursday, February 16 (14:00 – 15:45) SALA SPECCHI

Parallel Session 4

Chair: Chantal Saint-Blancat (University of Padova)

Kornelia Sammet (University of Leipzig, Germany), Religious Plurality versus Cultural Defence: Attitudes towards Islam Taken in Group Discussions on the Construction of Mosques in Germany

Stefano Bigliardi (Lund University, Sweden), A Unity with Many Virtues: From Recognition of Plurality to Integration within Contemporary Discourse on Islam and Science

Rayhan Asat (Xinjiang University, China), Perceptions of Islamic Headscarf Practice and Possible Room for Just Explanation towards Veiling

Bartolomeo Conti (EHESS – Paris), From Muslim Community to Islamic Minority in Italy

Matthias Kortmann (University of Amsterdam, The Netherlands) and Kerstin Rosenow-Williams (Ruhr-University Bochum, Germany), Muslims' Struggle for Recognition in Germany in the 21st century: Changing Debates and Collective Responses

Thursday, February 16 (16:15 – 18:00) AULA 1

Parallel Session 5

Chair: William H. Swatos, Jr. (Baylor University)

Yenyi Lee (University of Birmingham, UK), Religious Pluralism in the Perspective of Confucian Proposition of “Li is One but Its Manifestations Are Many (li-yi-fen-shu)”

Sophie-Hélène Trigeaud (University of Kent, UK), Religious NGOs at the UN: Religious (non)Diversity and Networks at the Human Rights Council in Geneva.

Fatma Sündal (Anadolu University of Eskişehir, Turkey), Alevi Demands in Contemporary Turkey: Laïcité and the Recognition of Diversity within Islam

Annalisa Buttici (University of Padova, Italy), Challenging the Catholic Church: West African Pentecostal Churches in Italy

Simone Martino (University of Torino, Italy), Forms of Religious Pluralism in the Age of Globalization