

Invitation

The Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) within the context of the research project TARGET, and with the support of the Turkey Programme and the South-East Europe Programme at ELIAMEP, invite you to an online workshop on:

Integrating gender in studies on South-East Europe and Turkey

Despite the growth of gender studies in South-East Europe and Turkey, the gender dimension is not commonly integrated in the themes, approaches and methods of social science scholarship on these countries and regions. The purpose of this thematic workshop is to provide expert knowledge on how a gender perspective can be taken into account and enrich the study of politics, society, and economy in South-East Europe and Turkey. It shall also offer an opportunity for a discussion and exchange between gender studies experts and scholars working on the region.

The event will be held in English, on Friday 10 December 2021, at 13.30-17:00.

Pre-registration is required here.

The agenda of the event is available below.

*Participants will receive a certificate of attendance if requested.

More info: Marianna Vasilopoulou
Tel: +30 210 7257 124, E-mail: events@eliamep.gr

AGENDA Friday, December 10 2021

13:30 – 13:40 Welcome and Introduction

Dia Anagnostou, Senior Research Fellow, ELIAMEP; Assistant Professor, Panteion University of Social Sciences

13.40 – 15.00 Gender, politics and society in Turkey

Chair:

Ioannis N. Grigoriadis, Senior Fellow and Head, Programme on Turkey, ELIAMEP; Associate Professor, Bilkent University

Speakers:

Political Questions and Gendered Answers: Studying women and politics in Turkey

Yeşim Arat, Professor, Department of Political Science and International Relations, Boğaziçi University

Mainstreaming Gender in Research on Social and Economic Policies in Turkey: Prospects and Challenges

Dilek Cindoglu, Professor of Sociology, Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Kadir Has University

Discussion

15.00 – 15.30 Break

15.30 – 16:50 Gender in the study of East and Southeast Europe

Chair:

Alexandra Voudouri, Research Associate, ELIAMEP; Correspondent of diplomatic affairs, Athina 9,84fm; Editor, MacroPolis

Speakers:

How does gender matter in conflict, peace and security? Insights from the post-Yugoslav space

Maria-Adriana Deiana, Lecturer/Assistant Professor in International Relations and Founding co-Director, Centre for Gender in Politics, Queen's University Belfast

Gender and politics in post-communist Central and Eastern Europe

Katalin Fabian, Professor, Department of Government and Law, Lafayette College

Discussion

16:50 – 17:00 Closing Remarks

Dia Anagnostou, Senior Research Fellow, ELIAMEP; Assistant Professor, Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences