

Invitation

The Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) is organising an online discussion on:

What is the future of globalization?

The rise of China, and Russia's invasion of Ukraine, are likely to prove turning points not just for geopolitics but also for economic geography. Has globalization peaked, and is about to unravel? What future for international trade? Can multilateral cooperation help keep world peace, cope with climate change, and reduce global poverty?

Speakers:

Margarita Katsimi, Professor, Athens University of Economics and Business

Antigone Lyberaki, Professor of Economics, Panteion University

Constantine Michalopoulos, Senior Policy Advisor, ELIAMEP; former senior official, USAID World Bank. His latest book "Aid, trade and development: The future of globalization", published by Palgrave Macmillan, came out earlier this year.

Alessio Terzi, Economist, European Commission; Lecturer, Sciences Po, Lille. His book "Growth for good: Reshaping capitalism to save humanity from climate catastrophe", published by Harvard University Press, came out earlier this year.

Moderator: Manos Matsaganis, Head, Greek & European Economy Observatory, ELIAMEP; Professor, Polytechnic University of Milan

The event will be held in English, on Wednesday 12 October 2022, at 17:00-18:30 (EET)/ 16:00-17:30 (CET).

Live streaming will be available on the ELIAMEP website and on ELIAMEP's official accounts on Facebook and YouTube.
