

Professor Panayiotis C. Ioakimidis

P.C. Ioakimidis studied politics, economics and European affairs at the London School of Economics – LSE (University of London), the University of Manchester (Victoria University), the University of Amsterdam (Europa Institut), the Panteion University and the National/Kapodistrian University of Athens. In addition to BA, he holds the degrees of Ph.D., M.Sc. and Diploma in European Integration.

P.C. Ioakimidis is currently professor of European integration at the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, University of Athens. He has also been Visiting Professor at the Hellenic School of Public Administration (Athens), the Centre for Diplomatic Studies of the Ministry for Foreign Affairs (Athens), the NATO Defence College (Rome) and other academic institutions. He has lectured widely on European Union issues in Europe and the USA.

P.C. Ioakimidis served as an adviser (Ambassador/Councilor) on European Union Affairs to the Greek Ministry of Foreign Affairs and to the Prime Minister C. Simitis. In this capacity, he took part in all major EU negotiations, including the negotiations for the Single European Act, the Treaty of Maastricht and the Treaty of Amsterdam. He was the Greek Representative to the Intergovernmental Conference for the Nice Treaty (2000) and Alternate Member to the European Convention for drawing up the European Constitution (2002-2003). He served as President of the Administrative Board and General Director of the Hellenic Centre for European Studies (EKEM). He is currently member of the Governing Board of the Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) as well as the Governing Board of the Association for the Modernisation of the Greek Society (OPEK).

Selective Publications:

- Ioakimidis, P.C., The Lisbon Treaty, Athens, Themelio (Library for European Issues), 2008. [in Greek]
- Ioakimidis, P.C., The European Constitution and European Integration, Athens, Themelio (Library for European Issues), 2005. [in Greek]
- Ioakimidis, P.C.,(ed.), Greece in the European Union – The New Role and the New Agenda, Ministry of Press and Mass Media with the assistance of the Hellenic Centre for European Studies (EKEM), Athens 2002.
- Ioakimidis, P.C., “The Europeanization of Greece: An Overall Assessment” in Featherstone, K. & Kazamias, G. (eds), Europeanization and the Southern Periphery, London, Frank Cass, 2001.